DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Summers et al. (5545051).

In regard to claim 1, Summers et al. disclose an electrical connector 50 comprising:
a rectangular insulated body 52 and a plurality of electrical pins 70, wherein the insulated body 52 is made of a liquid crystal polymer (see Col.4, lines 23-26) and comprises a bottom wall 58 for contacting a PCB 88;
a plurality of pin containers 60 passing through the bottom wall 58 for containing the electrical pins 70; and a plurality of protruding pillars (not marked, see Fig.5, left and right ends) under the bottom wall 58, corresponding in position to holes (not marked) on the PCB 88 (see Fig.7), for accurately positioning the insulated body 52 onto the PCB 88; and the electrical pins 70 are made of a phosphor bronze (see Col.4, line 33) and each of the electrical pins 70 includes a soldering section 72 to be soldered onto the PCB 88 using surface mount technology.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Summers et al. (5545051).

Summers et al. include most of claimed invention, except for the phosphor bronze for the electrical pins conforms to the JIS (Japanese Industrial Standards) 143270 C-5191.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the phosphor bronze for the electrical pins conforms to the JIS (Japanese Industrial Standards) 143270 C-5191, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416 (CCPA 1960).
